Fluke Quite Plentiful in the Bays and Outside.

There has been excellent fuke fishing in the past two weeks and big hauls have been made by the outside boats, as well as by the bay boath that go after this favorite summer fish. The little sea on for itil was the best for some years and as a rue we do not set real good fuke fishing the we do not set real good fuke fishing the years in rencession. This year seems to be an exception, however, for fuke many well he said to be plentiful. 'Plehing Around New York' gives the following description of the fluke.

"No fish comes into the bays regularly in such numbers as does the fluke. Prom late May to the end of Cetober it can be found aimost everywhere from Cape May to Montauk Point.

"It is shaped like the winter flounder, but etherwise is entirely different. It has very harpe jaws, full of long, sharp teeth, and it hunts live pray, especially killies and sparting."

"It will go anywhere in search of food, but it prefers clean stony or sandy bottoms in channels that have at least Sor D for water at low tide. Favorile places for dwater at low tide.
